GreyWorks 2009, Summer Workshop on Grey Literature

'BENCHMARKS AND FORECASTS ON GREY LITERATURE'

KNAW Conference Center Amsterdam
2 July 2009, 10:30—16:30 Hours

Over the past 15 years, Grey Literature has developed from a millennium movement to a well defined field in information studies. The needs and demands of information society are in constant state of change and flux. To a great extent, grey literature is the cause of this. Grey Literature has grown exponentially in relation to commercially published literature and now challenges informational professionals in all sectors of government, academics, business and industry.

This workshop was first conducted by Dominic Farace at the Library of Congress in May 2009, where it met with top reviews from among the participants. Farace is Instructor in Grey Literature at the University of New Orleans, Distance Education Program; Guest Lecturer at the University of Amsterdam, Media Studies; Editor of The Grey Journal, which won the Victorine van Schaick Prize 2008; and Director of GreyNet, Grey Literature Network Service.

GreyWorks 2009 consists of Four Modules:

An Introduction to Grey Literature
Background, Definition, Document Types, Collections, Standardization, Classification, etc.

The Demand-side of Grey Literature
Use, Usage, Users, Access, Search and Retrieval, Repositories, Preservation, Assessment, Citations, etc.

The Supply-side of Grey Literature
Production, Publishing, Authors, Researchers, Metadata, Ownership, Copyright, Review Process, etc.

The Future of Grey Literature
Policy Development, Value Chain, Business Models, Networking, Education, Training, etc.

Each module is a mix of formal presentation, exercises, and informal discussion. During the afternoon wrap-up, the participants will develop a consensus document expressing the state of the art on grey literature.

The British Library 1978-2009 Forerunner in Grey Literature

In December 1978, the British Library hosted the York Seminar. This event led to the establishment of EAGLE, the European Association for Grey Literature Exploitation and its SIGLE-database. Through the years, The British Library contributed 40% of SIGLE's more than 800,000 records. Thirty years on, it will not go unnoticed that The British Library is represented on the GL11 Program Committee and that BL is one of the start sponsors to this international S&T event. Neither will it go unnoticed that The British Library has taken on Associate Membership in GreyNet and as such is counted among the Corporate Authors to its serial and non-serial publications on grey literature. GreyNet publications from 1994-2000 are still available thru interlibrary loan/document delivery via the British Library Document Supply Centre (BLDSC) in Boston Spa, United Kingdom. These include the Proceedings of the first four international conferences in the GL-series (ISSN 1386-2316), as well as the 4th edition of the Annotated Bibliography on the Topic of Grey Literature (ISBN 90-74854-26-5). Together these five information resources contain the full text of some 120 conference papers and more than 750 bibliographic records most of which are annotated. For more information contact the British Library Conference Information Line and they will help you with your request, http://www.bl.uk/reshelp/atyourdesk/docsupply/collection/rct/

GreyNet Award Dinner 2009 in the "Finest Publick House in America"

This year's GreyNet Award Dinner will be held on December 13, 2009 in Gadsby's Tavern Restaurant in Old Town Alexandria just across the Potomac River from Washington D.C. This 18th Century Historic landmark is noted for its exquisite Georgian architecture. No building in the United States is more intimately associated with the American independence and national sovereignty. For nearly a century, Gadsby's Tavern was a center of political, social, and cultural life. Those who dine here do so within the same walls that hosted the first three presidents: George Washington, who conducted his final review of his troops on the front steps, John Adams, and Thomas Jefferson. The GreyNet Award Dinner will commence at 7pm in the main dining hall. Personal invitations will be extended to GreyNet Associate Members, Institutional Members, Individual Members, GL11 Program Committee Members, and Conference Sponsors. For further information contact info@greynet.org and visit http://www.gadsbystavernrestaurant.com/

About GreyNet Newsletter

This serial publication endeavors to keep information professionals abreast of developments in the field of grey literature. The bimonthly newsletter gives exposure to GreyNet's information resources and frontline activities with special emphasis on the International Conference Series on Grey Literature. The GreyNet Newsletter replaces the monthly GL Conference Memoranda (2003-2008) and is made possible through the support of GreyNet's Associate Members and Corporate Authors: The British Library (United Kingdom), INIST-CNRS (France), New York Academy of Medicine (United States), and University of Ljubljana (Slovenia).

Grey Literature "information produced and distributed on all levels of government, academics, business and industry in electronic and print formats not controlled by commercial publishing i.e. where publishing is not the primary activity of the producing body." (Luxembourg, 1997; New York, 2004)
