The GreyForum Series 2.1

Grey Literature and Information Rights : On Law and Practice
Amsterdam, The Netherlands, November 14, 2013

Within grey literature resides a wide range of knowledge based resources often unexploited and underestimated. A clearer understanding of the rights associated with this field of information will enable stakeholders to better understand the relevance and value of grey literature. This workshop will further guide information professionals in their tasks of informing policy and practice in the workplace.

Grey Literature and Information Rights is geared to publishers, librarians, archivists, and other information professionals in government, academics, business and industry who are involved in the production and/or management of information resources.

Guide to Good Practice in Grey Literature

Guide to Good Practice Repository

GreyGuide offers information professionals, practitioners, and students common ground for good practice in grey literature

Welcome to the GreyGuide, an online forum and repository of good practice in the field of grey literature. The GreyGuide seeks to capture proposed as well as published practices dealing with the supply and demand sides of grey literature. This is a collaborative project involving GreyNet International and ISTI-CNR Pisa, Italy.

The test-launch of the GreyGuide Repository took place during a summer workshop at the Library of Congress in Washington D.C. on July 25, 2013. The official launch of the GreyGuide Repository will take place on December 2, 2013 during the Fifteenth International Conference on Grey Literature in Bratislava, Slovak Republic. From now until then, the acquisition of both proposed and published good practices is underway. Your content contribution is greatly appreciated.

The GreyGuide is a community driven open resource repository. Your proposed good practice is considered an important contribution to the field of grey literature. In order to facilitate record entry a number of embedded lists and help screens are included throughout the process.
